

CTECH NOMINATED FOR INGRAM MICRO'S MOST VALUABLE PARTNER

CTECH Consulting Group has been named an Ingram Micro's 2018 Canadian Cloud Partner of the Year Nominee. The CTECH team is honoured to be nominated for Ingram Micro's Most Valuable Partner. Winners in each of the four categories will be announced on April 30th at the Cloud Summit in Boca Raton.

"Being nominated as the Canadian MVP for 2018 by a $6 billion dollar company really shows CTECH's strength at delivering solutions to our clients," says CTECH Consulting Group President & CEO Carl Fransen. "Being one of the best IT firms in Canada has always and will always be the goal for CTECH."

The Ingram Micro Canadian Cloud Partner of the Year awards recognize partners that have built the most fruitful and effective partnerships. These awards are a part of how the Cloud Summit recognizes tech providers who are strategically evolving their services to meet the changing face of technology for business.

CTECH has gained this nomination by providing businesses with unbeatable strategic advantages through cloud technology, including:

- Accessibility: You and your staff members can collaborate on documents and projects at any time, from any place.
- Cost Efficiency: Your cloud service evolves as your business does so that you're never paying for more than you're using.
- Flexibility: While your business grows, you're able to scale up or down, add new applications to the cloud, or add new users to your service.

As technology becomes more dynamic, companies like CTECH are leading the industry in optimizing resources for business owners of all kinds. Through their partnership with Ingram Micro, CTECH has connected countless Calgary professionals with custom cloud solutions.

For over eighteen years, CTECH has been  the preferred IT services company in Calgary.
